Old School Problems

- How old? Very old.
- Here's 3 old stories from our past to prove the point. (They've been slightly modernized to make the situation and the solution a little clearer.)

Story 1 - Nature

Story 2 - Assumptions

Story 3 - Society

A photograph of a man and a woman in a close embrace. The man, on the right, has dark curly hair and is wearing a dark jacket over a light-colored shirt. The woman, on the left, has dark curly hair and is wearing a light-colored blouse and a patterned skirt. They are standing in front of a dark wooden door. In the background, there is a wall with peeling yellow wallpaper and a small wooden cabinet with a copper pot and a teapot on top.

OF THE MAGI”

The Modern Story

- Modern families include technology.
- Modern friends are not necessarily physical.
- Modern lives are not necessarily real.

Traps of Modern Parenting

- We're human too. We also like gadgets and social networks. We get tired of saying no all the time. We don't like to be hated by our kids.
- We share the games and shows we liked as teens with our teens.
- We want to give more to our kids despite knowing it might not be good for them or needed (newest, biggest phones).
- There's no good research we can follow. And advice takes both sides pretty completely.

What We Can Do To Fix This

- It's pretty obvious.
- Questions?
